SCHOOL REPORT.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Prudential Committee, Mrs. Elmira Prichard, Dr. J. H. Cutler, E. M. Smith, Esq.

Primary department. Summer term. Teacher, Miss Fannie Washburn. This teacher maintained her well deserved reputation as a faithful and efficient instructor of children.

Fall and winter terms. This school has been under the charge of Miss Emma R. Smith for the last two terms, who has sustained the character of the school and her former high reputation as a most efficient and judicious teacher. The examinations were much enjoyed, showing commendable diligence and proficiency of the scholars.

Intermediate department. The summer and fall terms were under the charge of Miss Abbie C. Robbe, the former most faithful and successful teacher, who has long given instruction in this department with marked success.

She was succeeded in the winter by Mrs. Charles Knight, a lady of much experience in teaching. Mrs. Knight has labored most assiduously for the good of the school. Her discipline has been good, and the school has made excellent progress. The district can hardly do better than to retain the present teachers.

The Grammar department has had a successful year under the instruction of Mr. Charles Knight. Although the final examination of the winter term has not yet taken place, we think we can safely say the year has been a really profitable one for the district. This winter the school has been unusually large, and the promise is that there will be a larger and more thoroughly prepared class for promotion to the high school than usual. Though we feel constrained to criticise a little some of Mr. Knight's methods of punishment as belonging rather to the past than the present, we would at the same time heartily commend his faithfulness, zeal, and practical methods of instruction.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Miss Ellen M. Nahor, who has taught in this district several terms, again had charge of the summer term. She worked faithfully, as usual. She also did the district the service of collecting enough money to purchase a set of outline maps for the school room; a valuable addition to their fine school building.

The fall and winter terms were taught by Miss Mary Buckminster. The school made good progress under her instruction. Composition and map drawing, we were glad to see, had received considerable attention. The winter term showed increased thoroughness in the drill.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Miss Clara Pettengill had charge of both the summer and winter terms of this school. She came thoroughly qualified but without experience; uncertain of her powers but anxious to do good service. It took her a little time to learn the mental capacity of her smaller scholars, but when this was learned their progress became very marked, and at the end of the second term she showed that she has in her the making of an excellent teacher. We hope this district will again secure her services.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

This district again wisely employed Miss Mary Hamill. Under her instruction the scholars made excellent progress. Miss Hamill does not forget the "Why?" which teachers must so often ask. She also believes that every term she teaches should be better than the preceding, and uses all the means at her command to make it so.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Prudential Committee, Mr. William Tyler.

Both terms of this school were taught by Miss Emma N. Smiley. This teacher met with very good success in this school, and the scholars showed good progress in their studies. The examination passed off very creditably to both teacher and scholars.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

Prudential Committee, Mr. John A. Hovey.

Summer term. Teacher, Mrs. Mary C. Senter. Mrs. Senter is a teacher of much experience. She seems to win the love of the children, and imparts a good degree of enthusiasm to her scholars. The school was in good order at examination time, and the recitations showed faithfulness on the part of the teacher in the discharge of her duties, and good progress on the part of the scholars.

Winter term. Teacher, Mr. Frank C. Bruce. Mr. Bruce is a good scholar and an excellent disciplinarian. He carries much zeal into his work in the school room. The examination, which was deferred on account of a heavy storm, was very good, though but part of the scholars were present. But from those who were in attendance we judge the school was a success this term.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Geo. E. Hunt.

Teacher, both terms, Miss Abbie C. Morse. Miss Morse has taught this school for several terms with marked success, and the present year was no exception. Miss Morse is very industrious, "apt to teach," and skillful in drawing out the scholars. She imparts much enthusiasm to her school, and the examinations were very enjoyable. The parents in this district evince great interest in their school, and are always out in large numbers to attend the examinations. They have also contributed by the purchase of school equipments—maps, charts, and other things, useful and ornamental—very much to the good of the school.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

Prudential Committee, Mr. Charles Barber.

The summer term of this school was taught by Miss Jennie E. Hadley, who, though not having had any experience, was well fitted by education and natural characteristics for the office of a teacher. Throwing herself into her work she succeeded in awakening a surprising degree of enthusiasm in her scholars. The discipline was good, and the progress of the scholars very commendable.

The winter term was taught by Miss Edna N. Barber, who has had much experience in teaching, and her success sustained her previous reputation as a first class teacher. The examination was very good, and indicated study on the part of the scholars, and thorough instruction on the part of the teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

This district has been very fortunate in having Miss Knowlton's services for nearly two years. She has much experience and is thoroughly devoted to her work; has a high ideal and strives to attain it. She had many difficulties to overcome. There is great irregularity among the scholars from term to term, and several pupils on entering the school could not speak English, or understand it when spoken to them; but her examinations were highly creditable. We especially commend her methods of instruction.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

This district has but few scholars and only one term of school, but teacher and scholars evidently tried to make the most of this single term. Mr. Stearns came young and inexperienced, but he worked faithfully and patiently with his pupils, and the results were apparent at the closing examination.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

Prudential Committee, Mr. J. H. Fay.

The summer term of this school was taught with excellent success by Miss Nellie S. Wilcox, who is a good disciplinarian and every way qualified to take charge of one of our common schools. The examination showed that the scholars had made praiseworthy progress in their studies.

The teacher in the winter was Miss Jennie E. Hadley, who succeeded admirably, and the school sustained its former reputation.

It impresses us that while our schools are yet far from being what we desire, we have at our command means for their improvement if we are only willing to employ them wisely and faithfully. A larger appropriation is of course necessary to raise them to a very much higher standard, but with the money we have we think something more might be done.

First, our prudential committees could often select their teachers more wisely. The first applicant is not sure to be the best teacher. We have now in town material for some excellent teachers; they are gaining experience every term; some have already proved themselves; if our committees will secure for the schools the advantages of their maturing powers, much will be gained. Unfortunately, we have known where teachers of proved experience might have been secured to the greater benefit of the schools, if the committee had made a little effort to secure them, instead of taking a young and inexperienced applicant. They could confer with the superintending committee who, as a rule, have a wide acquaintance with teachers. Our schools need the moral and intellectual help that teachers of age and experience alone can give.

Second, there could be occasional meetings of the teachers of the town, to compare experiences and discuss methods of instruction—a town teachers' institute, in short. The superintending committee could take charge, and all interested in education could lend a hand.

Third, the superintending committee might confer, and adopt a systematic method for the schools and push together.

Fourth, parents might take a livelier interest in the schools; visit them oftener, and know from personal observation their condition.

Fifth, every school house might be supplied with maps; a large dictionary, correct pronunciation being an important consideration for teachers and scholars; a few books of reference, bought from year to year at small expense.

There are more things that might be suggested, but these will do for the coming year.

GEORGE DUSTAN, } Superintending
MRS. C. C. B. JACKSON, } Committee.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Mr. Tilton retired from the school last year at the close of the summer term, and the committee were compelled to seek a new principal. After considering several applications, they finally settled upon Mr. H. M. Rich, a recent graduate of Dartmouth College. He came to us bearing the highest recommendations, which, as an instructor he has amply justified. His teaching is excellent. His example, too, before his pupils is simple, pure and elevating. His weak point has been his discipline. When he first went into the school it was with the expectation of meeting there a class of young ladies and young gentlemen whose pride in their standing would impose a sufficient constraint upon their deportment, and spur them to scholarly endeavor. Such, in the main, they were ; but there were also those who needed something sterner than the rank book to hold them to study and behavior. Towards these few he has failed in severity. His examinations, however, have shown that want of rigor has not seriously lessened the practical results of his labors. In all the branches of study his pupils have exhibited a thorough and solid attainment.

GEO. DUSTAN, for Committee.

REPORT OF THE SELECTMEN.

RENDERED MARCH 1, 1881.

We herewith respectfully submit a report of the transactions of such departments under our charge during the past year as seems to us necessary to be made. We may have made some mistakes in the management of the details of the various interests committed to our care, but in all cases it has been our aim to labor faithfully, and according to our best judgment, for the highest interests of the town.

COLLECTORS AND COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Of the many changes from the former methods which we have made in the manner of transacting the town business, probably the greatest is in the tax list and collection of taxes. This change was absolutely necessary in following the plain directions of the General Laws of New Hampshire, which we have endeavored to do. The result is that the tax list for 1880 is entirely settled. S. N. Porter, collector, deserves great credit for the efficiency with which he has discharged his duties. Upon assuming the duties of our office we found reported uncollected taxes amounting to $1,288.50. There was no tax list certified to by the selectmen containing the taxes reported as uncollected, and there was a vacancy existing in the office of collector. According to the best legal advice we could get, we were convinced that it was very doubtful whether we could create a legal tax list for a tax assessed by our predecessors, or whether we could fill a vacancy in the office of collector, which occurred before our term of office commenced for the collection of such a list. For these and other reasons the collection of these taxes could not be enforced, although they were without doubt legally assessed.

ABATEMENTS.

Upon learning the true condition of the uncollected taxes, we concluded to collect all we could, and settle the balance by abatements, so far as we felt warranted in doing so. This necessarily makes the list of abatements larger this year than usual. We have been obliged to abate many taxes as uncollectable, which might have been collected in the years they were assessed.

TOWN OFFICERS.

The excess of the expenditures over the appropriations on this account is caused mainly by the fact that the collectors have been paid as other town officers. Heretofore their salary has been deducted from the amount of their collections. This cannot be done, if, as the law requires of them, on the first Saturday of every month, they submit their accounts to the treasurer for his examination, and pay over to him all moneys collected. This law has been strictly complied with.

POOR.

In accordance with the vote of the town at the last annual meeting, we visited the County Farm to examine the institution and learn the condition of the Poor accredited to Peterboro'. We found no persons there who could be brought to the Town Farm, in compliance with said vote. A list of the paupers at the County Farm will be found in another part of this report.

FUNDS.

The Osgood Fund of $1000.00 is deposited in the Peterboro' Savings Bank, and draws interest at four per cent. per annum. The conditions of the will requires that it shall be invested at six per cent., and the annual interest annually distributed to such poor of the town as the selectmen may judge to be worthy of such charity. That the conditions of the will may be complied with, we recommend that the Fund be invested in a six per cent. town bond, and the premium on the bond be paid out of the town treasury. We have made a report of the receipts and expenditures on account of the Fund, and we designed to have had a report of every fund given for the benefit of the town, but have been unable to obtain a report from the trustees of the Smith Fund for the benefit of the Library, although we have made a request of one of the trustees for such a report.

WATER FOR TOWN HOUSE.

In accordance with the vote of the town we have put in water pipes for the accommodation of the Town House Stores and Hall. Instead of connecting with the pipe at the watering trough and getting a supply of water from that source, we have allowed Mr. A. Fuller to connect with our pipes in the stores and lease the water to the tenants. We believed this to be better than to interfere with the supply of water for the town watering trough.

LIBRARY REPORT.

Your committee, when they assumed the care of the Town Library in April last, found a considerable number of books in the Library Room which were not entered on the Library record of books belonging to it. Neither did they bear the Library's printed label, nor any numbers or marks, written or printed, to indicate in any way that they were a part of the Library, or even the property of the town. We at once caused these volumes to be entered on the accessions catalogue, numbered and labelled and placed on the shelves. It was impossible to determine from the records of the Library or any other source of information, whether any of these volumes, or if any, which and how many, had been included in the accessions reported by former committees. The Librarian then in charge, was unable to give us any information further than the fact that the books had never been catalogued or numbered, but had, to some extent, been used and taken out by persons wishing to consult them. How many volumes have been lost to the town by such a method of dealing with them, will probably never be known, but Volume 1 of N. H. Agricultural Reports and Volume 52 of N. H. Supreme Court Reports were found to be missing from their respective sets, and the committee have so far been unable to find any trace of them. If any citizen of the town has them, it is hoped he will return them to the Librarian without delay. Several other volumes, of N. H. State Documents, Agricultural Reports, &c., were in the Selectmen's room, which by their direction we also placed in the Library. The additions to the accessions catalogue from both sources were seventy-one volumes.

Assuming then that this catalogue is the basis of the last annual book report, the book account stands as follows :

The book lost is Eggleston's "The end of the World," (17-3-19), which was drawn by F. C. Farrington, who left town without returning it, and all efforts of the Librarian and the Committee to secure its return, or any reply from him, have been in vain.

The books worn out are :

Mrs. Stowe's "The Pearl of Orr's Island,"	15-5-6
"Sybil's Second Love,"	17-5-15

And in Juveniles :

"Through by Daylight,"	13-4-12
------------------------	---------

There is a duplicate copy of the last named book in the Library.

Although all books were accounted for on the last report, three have been returned during the year which were not in the Library when we took charge of it—one from a family in the easterly part of the town—one found in one of the Sunday school libraries of the place and returned last summer, and another brought in just before the making of this report.

To secure greater accuracy in the delivery and return of books, and otherwise facilitate the proper performance by the Librarian of his duties, as well as to effectually prevent the carrying away of books without having them charged, which we found had become a crying evil, we have introduced the system of cards which is in use in all city libraries and in all well managed public and private circulating libraries of anything like the size of ours. If any object to this method of drawing books because it is new, we have only to say that it is probably older than they themselves are ; is the outgrowth of the combined experience of the skilled librarians of the country ; is the only method yet devised that secures the highest degree of accuracy, efficiency and expedition in the performance of the Librarian's duties and accommodation of book drawers ; and it is indispensable to the proper conduct of a library as large and as much used as ours, and ought to have been introduced long ago.

One source of inconvenience to both the public and the Librarian since the introduction of the cards, has been the lack of a supplementary catalogue of the additions made since the last catalogue was printed. The Committee are now preparing such a supplement to the catalogue, which will be printed and placed in the hands of the Librarian at an early day, for distribution to all families using the Library. With this supplement furnished, we believe all just ground of complaint against using the cards will be removed, and we trust all will cheerfully acquiesce in giving a fair trial to a method which we fully believe they will find satisfactory after such trial, and which we know is necessary for the proper and efficient performance of the Librarian's duties.

As a further security against the handling and injury of books and carrying them away without the Librarian's knowledge, we have, at his request, substituted for the table a standing desk at the delivery, thus preventing the piling of books there within the reach of the public as they are returned, and necessitating the putting of every volume at once in its place on the shelves when it is received, ready for delivery if called for; and also necessitating the receiving of every volume by the drawer directly from the Librarian's hand after he has charged it to him. By no other system can we justly hold the Librarian responsible for the books we place in his charge. In furtherance of the same general plan, the Selectmen have, at our suggestion, extended the wire railing across the south side of the Library room, substituting a higher railing at the delivery end of the floor, and removing the old counter on the south side. We think every one will recognize it as a necessary change and a great improvement to the room.

Our predecessors, in their report one year ago, offered two suggestions of which at the time we heartily approved, and which we have attempted to carry out during the year. The first was that a collection of pamphlets should be made. We have made a catalogue of and numbered all pamphlets in the Library when we took charge of it, and such others as have been received during the year.

Those received during the year are :

From the Department of Agriculture—

1. Special Report on Crops, April, 1880. 2. General Index of Agricultural Reports, 1862-1876. 3. Report on Sorghum Sugar, April, 1880.

From Bureau of Education—

1. Report of Commissioner for 1876. 2. Special Report on Libraries of U. S.—Part II. 3. College Libraries as Educators. 4. Annual Meeting National Educational Association, 1880. 5. Legal Rights of Children. 6. Rural School Architecture. 7. English Rural Schools. 8. The Indian School at Carlisle Barracks. 9. Progress of Western Education in China, Siam and Japan. 10. Vacation Colonies for Sickly Children.

The second suggestion, that the Transcript be bound and placed in the Library yearly we heartily concur in, and we have partially perfected an arrangement whereby we expect to place in the Library bound volumes of the paper covering quite a long series of years. Such an addition will be invaluable in the future as a source of information in matters of local history.

We have also on hand several volumes of the "Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office," a weekly journal furnished to the Library by the United States Government with the request that it be bound and preserved. These we propose to bind at once, as it is a valuable publication for persons interested in machinery and the mechanic arts.

The financial report is as follows :

As will be seen above we have not yet done the rebinding and repairing of the books for the year ; and for the reason that we did not intend to go beyond the appropriation, which was contingent on the amount of the Literary Fund drawn by the town. This fund being somewhat larger than last year, the balance of the appropriation turned over to us just before making this report, together with the fine money, will be sufficient for this purpose and for the two above mentioned. The income of the Weston Fund, received by us a few days since, by its conditions must be expended in the purchase of books for the Library.

We recommend that in future the appropriation be made a definite sum, and not contingent upon anything received from the State, so that whoever manages your Library may know at the beginning of the year what means they have at command.

R. B. HATCH,
JOHN SCOTT,

We, the undersigned, Auditors of Accounts for the Town of Peterboro', have this day examined the foregoing accounts of the Treasurer, Selectmen, Overseer of the Poor, Superintendent of the Town Farm, Road Agent, High School Committee, and Committee on the Town Library, and find them correctly cast and properly vouched.

We think the report of the Superintendent of the Town Farm should be made up by omitting his salary from the account, thus showing a balance of $177.31 cash in his hands, and that the Financial Statement of the Town should show this sum among the assets, and the liabilities should include $325.00 salary due the Superintendent April 1, 1881. We say nothing of the Selectmen's Town Farm Reports for the reason that there are two reports, and that the cash transactions between the Farm and the Town all appear in the Superintendent's Report and are there audited.

NOTE.—The above account is made up of the actual transactions of the farm, and all the items of the account are contained in the annual invoices in February of 1880 and 1881, and the cash account of J. H. Bartlett, superintendent. The difference in the appraisal of furniture and tools is not on account of any loss on either, but a difference of opinion as to their value, and should not affect the standing of the farm. The interest is not taken into the account because it is neither a debt we owe or a debt we have paid.

Sixty-eight cords of wood and about nine M. feet of lumber have been cut off from the farm during the year. We are of the opinion that the value of the farm has not depreciated on that account more than it has appreciated on account of improvements made, and other causes.

Interest is profit derived from property used by another person. We have used the property, therefore should be charged with interest. The property embraced in "Farming Tools and Furniture" we return as we took it. We return property for property, not the appraisals, as they are only the different opinions on the same property. We took the farm with a stock of cattle and hay enough to feed them through spring, with three tons to sell. We debit ourselves with the hay we were obliged to feed as so many tons, and the surplus at its cash value. We return an equivalent stock to be fed through another spring, also hay enough, ton for ton, to feed them: we also return two tons which may be sold, so we credit ourselves with the hay to be fed as so many tons, also the surplus at its cash value.

CHIEF ENGINEER'S REPORT.

In compliance with a vote of the town, I herewith submit the annual report of the Fire Department, with an inventory and appraisal of the property connected therewith.

The force of the department consists of the Board of Engineers, thirty-six men belonging to Aquarius Engine Co., and fifteen belonging to Deluge Engine Co. I am pleased to be able to report a well organized and efficient Fire Department, with a better selected and a more efficient body of young men than is usually found in any department of this size. Especially worthy of mention is the thorough business manner in which the company meetings of Aquarius Engine Co. are conducted, and the strict manner in which the company rules are enforced. As a consequence of this their meetings are very fully attended, and the men thereby have a greater interest in and a better knowledge of their duties than they otherwise would have.

The Department has not been called out to a fire during the year, and for the past few years the town has been remarkably fortunate in this respect. It is the duty of the town to see that this good fortune does not in the end prove their misfortune, by causing its citizens to be more negligent in the care of their property and providing means for its protection.

The Committee appointed at the last annual meeting, (composed of J. H. Steele and myself,) have made arrangements with the Phoenix Manufacturing Co. satisfactory to us, and they have been paid $260.00 as the town's portion of the expense of putting in the connecting pipes and hydrants between the pipes connected with the Phoenix Factory pump and that in P. C. Cheney Co's Mill. Another cut-off has been put in, so that either pump can be used in either direction independent of the other, or both can be used together. We are to have the use of the pump in the Phoenix Factory whenever wanted for fire purposes and the necessary trials of the pipes and hydrants.

INVENTORY AND APPRAISAL OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Aquarius Engine,	$500 00
2 hose carriages,	120 00
1 sled for hose carriage,	14 00
550 feet leather hose,	500 00
1200 feet linen hose,	900 00
7 hose pipes,	40 00
2 fire hooks with ropes,	35 00
3 ladders,	8 00
17 hose clamps,	15 00
3 stoves and pipes,	45 00
5 hosemen's rubber coats,	25 00
Engine house,	500 00
Leading and suction hose at W. Peterboro',	300 00
	—————$3002 00

All of the property in the department is in good condition and ready for use at all times. I would recommend that at least 300 feet more hose be allowed Deluge Engine Co. I would also recommend that the town purchase a village hook and ladder truck, to be kept with the Aquarius Engine. The department is very poorly provided with this very necessary apparatus of a well equipped fire department, and unless provided the town will be liable sometime to suffer serious loss for the want of it.

Respectfully submitted,

J. F. NOONE,

Chief Engineer Peterboro' Fire Department.
